The Coalition to End Sexual Exploitation (CESE) Summit has become a cornerstone event in the movement to defend human dignity in America and around the world. The theme this year is to expose the seamless connections between all forms of sexual exploitation. No other event in America promises to bring together diverse academics, law enforcement officials, recovery programs, and advocates to learn and to build a substantial network for efforts to combat pornography, sex trafficking, child abuse, sexual violence, and more. Whether you are a rising leader or an experienced veteran, this event will not only serve to inform and assist your efforts in practical ways, but it will also inspire and encourage you about the hope for a world free of sexual exploitation, objectification, and violence.
