Advice Column

You've been asked to write the "Wise Person" column for the local paper by answering these letters.

Dear Wise Person,

I don't know what to do! We have final exams scheduled at school next week. I checked my horoscope and next week will be a very bad time for me to take any tests. I told my teachers I need to wait another week, but they refuse to change the test dates for me. Help!

Dear Wise Person,

My mom is refusing to take me to the concert she promised we'd attend. She heard me swearing and cursing at my friends yesterday when I was really mad at them. She grounded me. What's the big deal? Don't you think she's overreacting just because I said a few bad words?

Sad Kid

Dear Wise Person,

I'm a Catholic who goes to the 10 A.M. Mass every Sunday and sings in the choir. I just met a boy I really like, but he thinks I'm stupid for going to Church every week. He wants me to go to a ball game next Sunday and skip the 10 A.M. Mass. I could go on Saturday night, but I don't really want to. We could still get to the game on time if we left after the Mass. How can I explain to this guy that my religion is really important to me?
